Commission Continues Struggle For Road Funds

The Coffee County Commission met in regular session on Monday, April 23, at the courthouse in Enterprise, and agreed to meet with State Highway Department officials one last time in an effort to acquire additional funds needed to repair the roads in the county.

County Engineer Leslie Mullins stated, "We have $139,000 in Federal and State funds, but we'll lose it if it isn't used soon." The funds had been earmarked by the Commission to be used to erect a new bridge at Snellgrove's Mill, but the State placed the bridge near the bottom of its priority list, meaning additional funds to build a new bridge would be very small, if any. Fearing a loss of funds, the Commission told Mullins to work up an estimate on emergency road repair, and pledged to use the money originally earmarked for the bridge to save the roads. At Monday's meeting, Mullins presented an estimate of $291,000 to do emergency repairs, which meant the county must borrow $152,000 to cover expenses. All the commissioners balked at having to borrow such a big amount and agreed to meet with Highway Department officials again in an effort to get more funds.

The emergency work to be done includes: (1) Seal on County Road 43 from New Brockton to Damascus; (2) Seal on County Road 45 from Enterprise to the county line; (3) Seal on County Road 11 to Crenshaw County line; (4) leveling on County Road 14 from Batten's Crossroads to Fairview; and (5) work on County Road 79 in two places - from 167 to chicken plant, and from Artis Smith's to New Hope. The work totals almost 30 miles.

Monday's meeting actually began at 10:00, with all commissioners present. Present were Jack Hornsby, Rex Boutwell, Gilmer Grant, Don Smith, Bennie Beckham and Max J. Reeves, along with Probate Judge James L. Sawyer.

Tax Assessor Mac McKinney addressed the Commission concerning the mapping contract with Coston Barlow. McKinney asked that Barlow be retained on contract beginning with May 1, 1978 tax period until April 30, 1979. The Commission delayed action until authorized by the State. McKinney also requested that the Equalization Board be called into session on May 7 or May 14. The Commission must verify mapping records before the taxes can be finalized.

Mr. Bernie Cobb, of the Enterprise Chamber of Commerce, asked the Commission to request the Department of Industrial Relations to do a "Manpower Resource Report" on Coffee County. The report will cost the county nothing, and all the county must do is provide office space for the workers for a period of 3 to 4 weeks.

The Commission again discussed an expense allowance for the coroners, and voted to ask the local legislators to introduce a bill to authorize a $50 monthly expense allowance for each coroner. The coroners had asked for $100 per month in an expense allowance, but Rep. Jimmy Holley reported State law placed the coroner's salary at $12.50 per case and 15 cents a mile. The coroners stated they would not ask for a mileage charge if the $100 expense allowance should be approved, but the Commission reported it couldn't change the pay without State approval.

County Attorney Braxton Rowe was at the meeting and the Commission quizzed him about a recent bill for $7,000 from his legal firm. The fees were for (1) representing the County in a lawsuit to build a jail in Enterprise, (2) working to establish the legality of paying legal fees in indigent cases, and (3) aiding the county in the collection of back fees from Solid Waste Enterprises.

"I feel the fee is fair and reasonable," said Rowe, but the Commission disagreed and asked Rowe to work up a chart showing actual hours spent on the cases. Rowe stated in the future he would submit an hourly report, but added, "It would be impossible to give an accurate estimate on the work covered in the bill." The Commission took no action on paying the bill.

County Engineer Leslie Mullins spoke to the Commission and stated:

his department needed new dump trucks, and pledged to try to keep the old ones running as long as possible;
roadwork at the hatchery should be completed this week;
he would like to purchase a new bush-hog. The county bought two last summer, but Mullins reported that to cover the entire county he needed at least one more. The Commission voted to send out invitations for bids on a 15-foot bush-hog and a tractor.

While at the meeting, County Attorney Rowe discussed the railroad crossing at McCall's Store. The Seaboard Coastline Railroad asked the county to pay $727 per crossing, and the county must keep up the crossings. The Commission agreed to enter into an agreement with the S.C.L. Railroad. Rowe also discussed the county's suit against Douglas Pittman. The Commission is suing Pittman in an attempt to recover money it declares Pittman owes the county in fees collected while he was manager of the Farm Center.

Commission Clerk Brunese Winston told the Commission: she has hired a man on the CETA program as a janitor at the courthouse;

that prisoners at the jail had been working hard outside the courthouse and that the grounds look very clean;

she would like to buy paint and let the trustees clean up and paint inside the courthouse;

that work was being done at the county jail so that it would meet State standards;

and asked who got the profit from the drink and cookie machines in the courthouses.

In other action at Monday's meeting, the Commission: passed a resolution seeking Highway 167 be changed to a U.S. highway;

appointed Billy Helms to Bethany Water Authority for a term of 3 years;

appointed Eugene Bradley to the Goodman Water and Fire Protection Authority for a term of 6 years;

received a semi-annual financial report on Coffee County;

nominated the late Sheriff Neil Grantham for the "Outstanding Contribution to County Government" in the state in competition sponsored by the Association of County Commissioners in Coffee County; and nominated Buddy Perry, Nosh Oliver and Roland Day to serve on the Equalization Board.

There is one man in the good ole USA that feels he is getting enough pay for what he is doing. However by turning down a pay raise, he has lost his job with the federal government! The man, whose name escapes me, is making $40,000 a year and when an automatic pay raise came through, he tried to turn it down, only to be told that was impossible. Later, he was told he would be transferred a thousand miles away with a reduction in grade and pay. He had already gotten the impression he was being eased out and the transfer orders confirmed it. The man that blew the whistle on the billions of over-run cost in the C-5 airplane project suffered the same fate and resorted to lawsuits. The difference in country boys like ye ole editor and the big wig politicians is that if I were President and a government employee chose to actually do the job he was hired for and save the taxpayers money, then I would put him at the desk next to mine and instruct him (or her) to do some more of the same anywhere and everywhere in government!

I am convinced that the largest problem we have in government (grassroots, up) is not welfare graft and stealing but employees always grabbing for more and the attitude that stifles an individual that thinks as an individual.

People are human wherever we go. Knowing all the things we mentioned above, it is really no surprise to hear that the outer troops of the African dictator Amin filed reports when someone told them about a lawbreaker but also filed a report on the person reporting the activity "to find out his motives!"

Recreation Director Dennis Smith is planning a big weekend in June with ball tournaments, air shows, model airplane contest and a whole bunch of things. This week he is hunting a name for the two day event and a local citizen has offered a $10 prize for the first person to submit the winning name. Send and hand your suggestions to the Elba Recreation Director Dennis Smith. Ye old editor hopes someone will come up with a name that combines Elba and Pea River into a short catchy title.

Monday of this week, as I was talking with one of Elba's "most charming" the conversation turned to speculation of how life would have turned out "if." She mentioned something that fascinated me and when I said "you should have done that," the response was a slow yes and a quickly added, "but then I probably would have never known you." This was very flattering and really not necessary for the conversation but I later realized it is things like that which make the unnamed lady "most charming."

The rain that has hit us this week has me a little itchy. Our ten year-old Chris and I have plans to leave Elba at three Friday on a fishing trip to Florida. We already have sleeping reservations that must be paid and I sure don't want to spend the days looking out the window at the rain.

Energy is now the name of the game. If you are talking about just about anything, it seems to center around energy (or the shortage of energy). The politicians are predicting that all politics will depend on what happens in the oil fields, with Alabama Power Company, etc. The same is true with industry and most assuredly with the stock market. "I Love You"

By Allison Maddox

You are the one I am looking for. No one, nobody else but you; Until I feel like loving you more. Then what can I do? I know you don't love me, and I know in my heart; This love will never be, I am young and not very smart. At night you seem so near. You are far away like the sky; If only you were here, But all I can do is cry. This love of mine goes on and on. And I know it will never end; Like a sweet love song.

Being sung to the wind. So please believe me my love, That will please me so much. Like a little turtle dove My love is soft to the touch. Wherever I may go, And wherever I can go; I will always love you so, And you can love me, too. Although you don't love me, I cry all the time; This love is over thee I wish you could be mine. The wishing will never stop And I can't get it through; The bubbles will pop. All I can say is: I LOVE YOU!

Views From THE PRESSBOX

With Ricky Mulare, Sports Editor

Kathy and I went to Montgomery last weekend to watch a women's softball tournament, and the girls put on quite a show. There were teams from Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, Tennessee and North Carolina in the 31-team event, and the playing was excellent. The fence at Lagoon Park is 290 feet, but a couple of girls actually came close to reaching it in the air! Superior Roofing of Enterprise found rough going in the tournament, as did the Rockies of Webb, but both teams played well. Now, if we can get an Elba team to battle the big girls!

I heard yesterday that a group of residents in the southern part of the county are putting pressure on Rep. Jimmy Holey to introduce a bill that would "outlaw" the use of dogs while hunting deer in the southern part of the county. The "anti-dog" group is apparently well organized and is working hard to get a law passed. I'm not a hunter, but I imagine some of the local hunters who have big money tied up in their dogs will fight the proposed change. We could be in for some fireworks!

The local softball leagues are rolling along smoothly, and except for the usual fussing about "close calls," I guess everything is okay. The Men's League is highly competitive, and the women are really scoring the runs. Why not go out and watch a game?

The Elba Softball Classic is starting to take shape and the trophies will be ordered next week. The trophies will be 6 feet, 4 1/2 feet, 4 feet and 3 1/2 feet high, and the winning team will receive individual awards for each of the players.

This year we will have a 16-team men's tournament and a 16-team women's tournament on the same weekend, and the big weekend is set for June 15 and 16. If anyone wishes to enter a team in either tournament, contact me at 897-2823. Dennis Smith at 897-2333, or Lamar Kelley at 897-5663. Invitations will be mailed, but it's never too early to enter!

The George Lindsey Celebrity Golf Tournament will be held Sunday at Arrowhead Country Club in Montgomery, and all the proceeds go to the Alabama Special Olympics. Admission to the event is only $3 for adults and $1 for children, and I guarantee you'll have fun!

If your wife doesn't want to go, just tell her she can have her picture made with Don Craig - that'll get her attention.

Gotta go . . .

PASTOR'S CORNER

REV. ED HENNE
ELBA MINISTER

I am constantly amazed at the boundless energy of small children. They run, leap, and are never still. Adults are soon worn out trying to take care of them!

Why do children have so much more energy than adults? An article by a psychologist points out that we all have sufficient energy unless we are ill. But most adults find their energy siphoned off by inner conflicts, unhappy memories, fears of the future, and emotional frustration. Our children aren't hampered by these things to the degree we are, and their energy is available to them for physical activity.

Why do we adults stay tired? I believe the major cause of our fatigue is not physical exhaustion, but stagnation. The most thing thing I can think of right now is to sit in a chair by the hospital bed of a loved one for hours on end. By contrast, we can give our bodies a real workout in enjoyable recreation, and not feel nearly so tired. It has been proven that far more uicers are caused by worry than by work. So our problem boils down to the question of - not how to get power, but - how to use the power we have. When we go to the doctor with a random feeling, he will sometimes put us on mild tranquilizers because he sees our misdirected power is burning us up inside. But we don't need our emotions put to sleep nearly so much as we need them re-directed.

On the Ascension Day, Jesus told His disciples to go to the upper room and pray until the power of the Holy Spirit came upon them. And we cannot escape the fact that power surged through them from Pentecost onward. Spirit and power was bestowed upon them; but the Holy Spirit also helped them direct their natural power into productive channels.

The Holy Spirit can keep us conscious of human need as well. A preacher friend of mine says when he gets down in the dumps, he goes to visit the hospital. Ministering to others is a good way to work off our own frustration and depression. The Holy Spirit can guide us to those who need his presence.

The Holy Spirit can make us morally decisive. If the Holy Spirit guides your life, you will feel His guidance concerning what is right and wrong, and have to spend far less time in frustration over moral choices.

The Holy Spirit can cleanse us and give us inner purity. The poet said of one of King Arthur's knights: "His strength was as the strength of ten because his heart was

"pure." Builders now use copper water pipe because corrosion does not build up inside and impede the water flow. We need pure lives, not lives corroded with sin, to let the power of God flow through us.

If you have that tired, run-down feeling, you may not need Geritol. You may need the Holy Spirit to come and minister to your frustrations, forgive and cleanse you from sin, and direct your life to useful service. Pray for His power today.

The Holy Spirit can cleanse us and give us inner purity.

NEWS FROM ALABAMA LUNG

CLEAN AIR WEEK APRIL 30 - MAY 5

When the Alabama Lung Association launched its new programs aimed at teaching small children about the dangers of air pollution, cigarette smoke and lung disease, they hoped to achieve long-range goals of cleaner air and better breathing for succeeding generations.

Clean Air Week is being conducted this year from April 30 - May 5 and a special essay contest is being held in district schools. Students in grades 3 through 6 will put down on paper their thoughts about what air pollution and lung disease means to them. District winners will be honored at a breakfast to be held in Dothan, May 7.

Citizens will be awarded the top five winning essays in each district school.

The following are heading "Clean Air Week" in the district: Mrs. Martha Wyrodek of Lufkin; Mrs. Addie Lou Taylor of Eufaula; Mrs. Margaret Kirkland of Abbeville and Mrs. David Mathison of Dothan.

According to Pat Elliott, District Director, "We hope that Clean Air Week will call attention to the dangers of air pollution and show how individuals and concerned groups can help clean up the air and the environment."

Reddread more popularly known to his many friends and acquaintances by the nickname "Raz" Fuller. We're going to let you students of literature find out what story Mr. Fuller was reading. On second thought, we might better clue you in, as we don't want Mr. Burghoff to be the host of a new program about discovering your real self. One of four in a series titled "We're a 13," scheduled to air over the 150 stations during May, it explores the elements of popular value systems and ways most people identify themselves.

Burghoff, who says he's been asked if that's his real name, responds he's "no more 'Raz' in real life than you are." Just a housewife, executive, plumber or teacher.

"I'm really a person by the name of Gary Burghoff who's having quite a bit of difficulty with my own self-identity at this point in life." So are many others. As the program points out, some of us have lost the permanence of ways people once defined themselves. Others are losing it.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

This week we have a treat for everyone. We have started our "Senior Spotlight" again, and we know you're going to enjoy reading about the dear folks at the Elba Nursing Home as much as we're going to enjoy visiting and talking to them.

Our first very special person we're going to visit with is Mrs. Anna Hurd Fuller, mother of eight children, seven of whom are living. "Miss" Anna, as she is fondly called at the nursing home, is a petite, grey-haired lady with flashing big brown eyes and dark eyebrows.

She is quite young, having been born in the latter part of the 19th century, September 3, 1889, to be exact, to Mr. Matt and Mrs. Emma Hurd, of Wise's Mill Community. She had one brother, the late Jim Hurd.

In 1904, "Miss" Anna and Mr. Marion Wingate Fuller were united in marriage. Mr. Fuller was from Zion Chapel and was a farmer. We'd like to note that the rather unusual name of "Wingate" is of English origin, and is shared by one of the Fuller sons.

The marriage produced 8 children, who are: W. R. Fuller, a minister, who shares the name Wingate, but who also has another even more unusual name, the initial "R" standing for "Reddread" - it seems Mr. Fuller was reading a story and came across the name Reddread and like it and named one of his sons accordingly. Reddread more popularly known to his many friends and acquaintances by the nickname "Raz" Fuller. We're going to let you students of literature find out what story Mr. Fuller was reading. On second thought, we might better clue you in, as we don't want Mr. Burghoff to be the host of a new program about discovering your real self. MISS ELBA CONTESTANTS

The eight children have 23 children who have 43 children who have 6 children, which if you can follow our reckoning, makes "Miss" Anna a great-grandmother, with five generations living, which is a rarity today indeed, or so we think. Another blessing out of this large clan, only one child and one grandchild of "Miss" Anna is deceased. "Miss" Anna is a Baptist and belongs to Zion Chapel Baptist Church, where she was a devoted and active member. Her Sunday School class from the church visits her frequently.

When "Miss" Anna was younger and more active (and believe-you-me, she had to be active with 8 children), she liked to do all types of needlework, especially quilting and crocheting. She has always enjoyed group singing, reading the Bible and Church services and Sunday School and she loved flowers. She was known for always having one of the prettiest yards in her community. Mr. Raz recalled how her sons had to fix her a "flower pit" in which to keep her potted plants in the winter. It was a hole in the ground, walled with planks and covered. On a sunny day, one would uncover it and let the flowers get sunshine.

"Miss" Anna's roommate is a lovely, spry lady who has many friends and relatives around here - Mrs. Foye Crook. Some of her favorite foods are fresh peaches, watermelon and baked sweet potatoes - a lady after our own stomachs, uh, hearts. Mr. Raz said he can remember as regular as clockwork, his mother always breakfasting on toast with jelly and coffee.

Some of the activities "Miss" Anna participates in at the nursing home are all the religious programs, parties, bus rides, and therapy. This concludes our delightful visit with "Miss" Anna, but we hope all of you, some of you, will "make" the opportunity to go by and visit her in person, as the other charming residents of the nursing home. They can teach one so very much, and have so much to offer us, yet they ask so little in return - just a few moments of our time and a smile. We hope you enjoyed meeting "Miss" Anna as much as we did, and will be looking forward, as we are, to our visit next week. See you then!

Neurologists and neurosurgeons work to correct diseases and injuries to the brain, spinal cord and the peripheral nerves. One of the best-known surgical procedures performed by a neurosurgeon is the removal of a disk from the spinal column to relieve pain. The injured disk is then referred to as a slipped or ruptured disk.

Hair Stylist, Minnie Pearl Snell of Brundidge, was a recent guest of the Cosmetology Department at Douglas MacArthur State Technical College in Opp where she demonstrated to the group methods of hot combing and marcel curling. Shown acting as her model is Carolyn Flowers of Elba, a student in Cosmetology at MacArthur Tech.

Mrs. Betty Tucker of Elba (left) recently finished her instructor training in Cosmetology at Douglas MacArthur State Technical College in Opp. Here she is shown with the Cosmetology instructor at MacArthur Tech, Mrs. Juanita Welker, looking over the instructor Certificate which Mrs. Tucker received after being examined by the State Board of Cosmetology in Montgomery. Mrs. Tucker will be teaching cosmetology at the new Brockton High School beginning this fall.

CHOLESTEROL
Cholesterol is a normal part of blood and tissue and is found in all animal cells. Some of the cholesterol is made by the body and some is supplied by the foods we eat.

Chemically, cholesterol is a cousin to fat. It is a vital body chemical which plays a role in producing bile secretions and many important steroid hormones.

Cholesterol has been related to hardening of the arteries, high blood pressure, stone formation and other diseases. To date studies have not shown convincingly that restriction of dietary cholesterol in the general public is necessary. However, for certain people whose blood do not use it properly, dietary restrictions are necessary.

TIPS FOR ONE OR TWO

If you live alone or if your household consists of two people, cooking and shopping can be a problem.

Most recipes and pre-packaged foods are designed for the typical family of four, even though households of one or two people now account for 51 percent of the total number of households.

These suggestions may make your grocery shopping easier and minimize problems.

Buy only what you can eat or store. Ask for a half pound of ground beef, a couple of pork chops, a half dozen eggs, or a single stick of butter if this is what you need.

Buy small tomatoes instead of the large varieties. That way, you avoid having leftover sliced tomatoes that quickly lose their flavor.

Before you buy single-serving items, weigh the cost against the convenience. Consider the possibilities of waste and spoilage before you buy the larger economy sizes.

COPING WITH RETIREMENT

Adjustment to retirement is sometimes difficult to the person who retires and the wife or husband involved. It seems that problems often occur where the wife of the retiree has been staying home for years. For a long time she has been the one responsible for cleaning, laundry, meal preparation, grocery shopping, paying household bills and other general duties.

It is not surprising that the wife gets upset when her work suddenly increases because of more meals to prepare and more cleaning to do. Sometimes the irritation becomes even worse when the husband doesn't pitch in and help, but bosses her operation.

What's the solution? Some solutions which have worked for other couples include: A hobby for husband, volunteer work, husband finds employment or husband and wife share household chores and leisure-time activities.

Pre-retirement planning for a couple should include how the household and yard responsibilities will be shared. Shared work will give more time for shared leisure. This should lead to sharing more satisfaction during retirement.

Soil Conservation News

By: Bill Hughes, Soil Conservation Service will be checked in Coffee County. These plots will be 100 acres in size and may involve one or more farms.

The information from Coffee County will be compiled into a National Inventory which will be presented to Congress.

Jimmy Martin, County Line Community, is one of the landowners involved in this inventory. He is providing information on land, soil, cropping history, and special problems related to his farm to Joe Smith, District Conservationist.

Many landowners and farmers will be contacted to provide information in this inventory and hopefully this information will help Congress make wiser decisions in developing future conservation programs. Farmers and landowners are familiar with the limited cost-sharing assistance available through present programs to induce conservation of these resources and for the good of our society in the future these programs will need to be improved and become more effective. Help to accomplish this by providing accurate information when you are contacted.

FROM OUR EARLY YEARS

TEN YEARS AGO
APRIL 24, 1969

Mrs. Gladys S. Dorsey was honored Monday night, April 14, at the Country Club when Mrs. Nellie B. Martin, president of the Business and Professional Women's Club, presented her with an engraved trophy proclaiming her the Woman of Achievement for 1969.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion K. Sanders announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Kathryn, to Thomas F. Lavender, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Lavender, Sr. of Arion.

Lee Hamm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis L. Hamm, Jr., has been elected president of the Decatur High School Senior Class. Lee attended Elba Elementary School prior to moving with his family to Decatur. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Miles and Mrs. L. L. Hamm, Sr., and the late Mr. Hamm, all of "Eba."

Home Accidents Place Two in Local Hospital. Conway Lowery was struck in the leg by a piece of wire thrown by a power lawn mower. He is presently in Elba General Hospital.

Mrs. Agnes Plant was helping her son, John D. Plant, push off a truck that would not start when her foot caught in a wire hanging from the truck. This knocked her down and, as she was falling, her hand caught in the chain of the tail gate. She was dragged for several feet before her foot and hand slipped loose. John did not hear her calls for help.

Annette Nevin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Nevin of Kinston, has displayed exceptional scholarship during the first semester of the current academic year at the University of Alabama. She was one of 24 students there making all A's during that time. She is a 1956 graduate of Kinston High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Smith of Glenwood announce the engagement of their daughter, Sybil, to Joseph Michael Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Henry Smith of Luverne.

THIRTY YEARS AGO
APRIL 28, 1949

Harold English recently brought to the Probate Office one of several curious objects which he found on his place on the old Samson Road. It is a black, flat, circular object and shows evidence of being subjected to intense heat. Mr. English is of the opinion that it must have been a fragment cast off from a meteor sometime in the last 30 years.

News From Kinston, by Mrs. Rayford Stebbins: One of the most lovely affairs of the current season was the Jr.-Sr. banquet held at the Kinston High School on Wednesday evening, April 20. Throughout the delicious three-course dinner, the following program was presented with Buddy Clark as Master of Ceremonies: Duetting - Group; Welcome - Betty Johnson; Class History - Edwin Baker; Class Glimmer - Edsel Brooks; Class Prophecy - Jane Wiser; Last Will & Testament - Roy Adams; Gifforian - Ray Holley; Alma Mater - Group.

Miss Mozell Baker has accepted a position in the Elba office of Southern Benefit Life Insurance Company.

Chief and Mrs. C. T. Corley and son, Bryan Thomas, who have been stationed in Panama Canal Zone for the past three years, are spending a 45-day leave with relatives in Elba. Following their leave, they will reside in Jacksonville, Florida, where Chief Corley has a new assignment. Mrs. Corley will be pleasantly remembered as Miss Toteye Mae Baker, who was born and reared in Elba.

New Brocton News, by Mrs. George Hogg: Mrs. M. O. Jones was hostess to the Merrie News Club last night on Friday afternoon. Artistic arrangements of spring blossoms were used throughout the reception rooms. Following an hour's sewing, the hostess served delicious refreshments to the following members: Mesdames J. K. Jones, Claude Sawyer, J. K.

Hayes, Lex Nichols, J. A. Harris, Buford Palford, L. F. Jones, Hugh Semmes, E. C. Fuller, Emmette Sawyer and Hodge Herrington. Mrs. G. H. Hogg was a visitor to the club.

FOURTY YEARS AGO
APRIL 27, 1939

Work was started last week and is going forward rapidly on a new home for Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Fleming. The structure will be brick, two-story, and of modern design throughout. The new home is located on the Brantley Highway, across the road from the Tatum residence, and will add handsomely to that growing section of the city. Plans call for its completion early in the summer.

Manufacture of peanut butter in Elba got underway the first of the week with formal opening of the new plant of Southeast Peanut Products Company, located in the Eastern part of the city just across Pea River from the South. Mr. F. H. Murphy, owner of the plant, feels justified in saying that this new plant is the nearest and most modern to be found in the county.

Wipe Level News: Well, now that we've had a good rain, maybe everybody'll get a good stand of cotton. . . Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Hanchey are planning to go ahead and plant sometime in May.

Soybean varieties vary so much. We have early-season, mid-season and late-season beans. For most growers it is Lee 74, Centennial, Davis, Tracy, Coker 156 or McNair 600. A word of caution for soybean growers: Be sure to use a soybean inoculant on the seed and also do not plant in a dry soil. Keep your seed in the bag until you have good moisture conditions. Then plant.

We have complete information at our office on herbicides and other planting information.

ALL AROUND COFFEE COUNTY

County Farm Agent

OPPORTUNITIES

We have great opportunities for agriculture and livestock production in Coffee County. We can expand in soybean production. We can maintain as good a peanut program as possible. Beef cattle, dairying, swine and broiler production can be expanded.

We have markets for all of these products. Generally speaking, prices will vary, but think the key to success is to get together a combination of enterprises or even one enterprise and then manage with as much precision as possible.

SOYBEANS
Coffee County producers will plant over 30,000 acres of soybeans this year. In fact, we may go to 40,000 acres of soybeans or over. Our recommended planting dates for Coffee County are May 15 to June 15. Unless I were double cropping, I would definitely plan to go ahead and plant sometime in May.

Soybean varieties vary so much. We have early-season, mid-season and late-season beans. For most growers it is Lee 74, Centennial, Davis, Tracy, Coker 156 or McNair 600.
